In this two hour entertaining and educational seminar, you will learn:

- ▶ The unsuspecting ways men are responding to you, so you can create the response you want
- ▶ How you can go from frustration and confusion to connection and peace with all the men in your life - no matter the age or circumstance
- ▶ Two key areas of misunderstanding that cause hurt and disappointment in our relationships with men

PAX workshop leader-in-training, Amy Ramson, will share some of the surprising facts she's learned about men from her own independent research, and from Alison Armstrong, creator of the Celebrating Men, Satisfying Women[®] workshop.

You can immediately apply what you learn to produce a tangible difference in your relationships with all the men in your life, including boyfriends, husbands, fathers, sons, brothers and co-workers.

You'll find this event valuable, and well worth your time. You will experience some of the exciting and life-changing information that's available from PAX. At the end of our introductory seminar, and with absolutely no-pressure, you will have the opportunity to register into the Celebrating Men, Satisfying Women[®] workshop at substantial savings and with a bonus worth $175.

The information taught at PAX workshops has made a difference in the lives of thousands of women and men. If you're just the least bit interested in finding out more about what is possible or want to attend, please call Amy Ramson at 516-987-9000 or email her at Amy.Ramson@gmail.com.
